COMMENTS FROM THE TOWN MANAGER'S OFFICE

The auditor was supposed to begin auditing the town books this week but for some reason he has not appeared. The books are all closed and balanced and ready to be checked as soon as he arrives.

The unpaid taxes for 1963 at the close of the year was $24,887.30. That is about 9.3% of the total commitment. Last year the unpaid taxes amounted to 6.7% of the commitment so there is an increase of 2.6% in unpaid taxes.

I mentioned earlier in the year that the excise tax collections were ahead of the 1962 rate and the trend continued through the year. A total of $21,155.00 was paid for excise tax in 1963 as compared with a total of $19,502.64 for 1962. This is an increase of 1,652.36. This increase is caused by more cars being excised and more expensive cars being excised.

The budget committee meetings will probably start the last of this week or the first of next week. I understand that the school committee has discussed their budget and has another session scheduled for next week. If there is any person or group of persons interested in attending the budget committee meetings, they should call the office and I will notify them when a meeting is scheduled.

Quite a few people have been in to excise their automobiles for 1964 and the number will increase until the end of February.

Bill and Doug Boynton spent several days last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Douglass, Sons of Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Boynton of Karachi, Pakistan, both boys are students at Gould Academy.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Bowley of North Bridgton, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Whitehouse and Donna Shepherd of Bridgton, Mrs. George Soper and son, Ernest, Mr. and Mrs. Ormand Gross Jr., Irvin and Crystal, all of South Chebucto, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Brown and Jill of South Waterford, were with Mrs. Gertrude Bartlett and Laurence, Dec. 22nd.

Mrs. Dorothy H. McMahon, wife of Rev. Dwight H. McMahon, former resident of Bethel, was afflicted with a major shock on Dec. 7, at her Bucksport home. She was cared for in the Eastern Maine General Hospital for 15 days, making good progress toward recovery of health. She is now back home with Rev. McMahon, but must be an invalid for some weeks. Obviously, Mrs. McMahon has been unable to reply to the Christmas greetings from Bethel people.

Mr. and Mrs. Burdick Pierce of Bethel were hosts at an open house given from 5 to 7 p. m. on New Year's Day at their home on Broad Street. Invited guests, including supervisors from the Earth Satellite Station, Andover were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Clements of Bethel, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Palmatier, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hall and James Robinson, all of Andover; Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Dryer and Mr. and Mrs. John Hamilton, of Dixfield, and Mr. and Mrs. John Westerlund of Rumford.

McINTIRE ANNOUNCES CANDIDACY FOR U. S. SENATE

Seven times Congressman Clifford G. McIntire of Maine's Second Congressional District announced his candidacy, Tuesday, for the U. S. Senate on the Republican ticket in the June 1964 primary election.

From 1933 to 1947, he was appraiser, supervisor, and regional manager for the Farm Credit Administration in Maine. He was assistant general manager of the Maine Potato Growers, Inc., from 1947, until his election to Congress in 1951.

Clifford G. McIntire

Congressman McIntire, a successful farmer and business man, is now serving his thirteenth year in Congress. He is a member of the House GOP Policy Committee, Committee on Committees, and is on the Board of Visitors of the U. S. Merchant Marine Academy. He is also a member of the Foreign Agricultural Operations and Poultry subcommittees.

AREA CHAMBER ELECTS

The Bethel Chamber of Commerce, meeting at the Norseman Inn on Tuesday night, turned a page in its history to begin a new venture.

The occasion was the annual meeting of the Chamber and it was significant because of the election of the officers, the organization known as the Bethel Chamber of Commerce came to an end, and in its place began the life of the new Greater Bethel Chamber of Commerce.

The change is the result of a long period of study of the activities of other Chambers of Commerce in areas similar to Bethel. The study resulted in the recommendation and adoption of a Constitution and Bylaws that would provide a framework for serving the surrounding area instead of the town limits of Bethel; for participating in more civic responsibilities than before; in short, being what an Area Chamber of Commerce ought to be.

FIRE DAMAGES DRYING ROOM AT EKO-TEBBETS

A smoldering fire caused by over-heated coils in a baking oven partially destroyed the drying room of the Eko Tebbets Co., Inc., Locke Mills, last Thursday evening.

Company President John Tebbets credited the efficiency of the firefighters with saving the remainder of the wooden frame structure. The Bethel fire department was called.

The building where the fire smoldered is the only wood frame building owned by the large wood products manufacturing company. The remainder of the structures are of concrete construction.

The alarm was given by the night watchman at about 8 p. m. when he discovered the over-heated electric coils in the lacquer plant where handles were being varnished and tumbled.

The fiber glass around the walls near the oven allowed little air to circulate keeping the fire at the smoldering stage, but charring the walls in that section of the building.

CLEMONS TRANSFERRED; PROMOTED

Robert G. Clemons, Chapman Street, has been transferred to Boston with the Long Lines Department of the American Tel and Tel Company. His new assignment is that of Staff Supervisor with the Boston District office. For the past two years Mr. Clemons' work has been at the Ground Satellite Station at Andover where he was Equipment Maintenance Supervisor at the time of his promotion and transfer.

Mr. and Mrs. Clemons purchased the former John Bur bank house from Mr. and Mrs. Richard Douglass and with their three children, Kathleen, a senior, and Robert, a junior at Bethel Academy; and Mary Jo, in the eighth grade at Crescent Park School, and Mrs. Clemons' father, Ray P. Burke, who died in October 1962, moved here from Brunswick in September 1961.

The Clemons family which has been active in school functions and the Methodist Church, where Kathleen is organist, will be moving to Framingham, Mass. before the end of the month.

Greater Bethel Chamber of Commerce were, Rev. Clifford Laws, president; Norman Greig, vice president; Alvin Barth, secretary; Ronald Stevens, treasurer; Members-at-Large, Richard Bryant, Roger Luce, Guy Butler. The entire slate of officers will comprise the Executive Committee, who will be charged with the responsibilities of planning and directing the work of the Chamber.

In his annual report, the President said, "Just because we have the organizational machinery to do a good job is no guarantee that a good job will be done. That depends on the use of our collective knowledge in using the machinery to the best advantage. So, let's get busy!"

CENTRAL MAINE POWER
OFFERS REWARD

Central Maine Power Company will pay a $500 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of any person, or persons, causing willful or malicious damage to the company's transmission lines.

In announcing the reward offer, CMP President William H. Dunham said that the company is acting "in the interests of its customers." He pointed out that "a break in a transmission line can seriously threaten the safety and welfare of hospitals, homes, businesses, industries and farms."

Damaging of power lines is against the law and is punishable by a fine or imprisonment. Even so, the annual direct cost to CMP of repairing transmission lines which have been maliciously damaged has been substantial in recent years.

Mr. Dunham said that the cost in terms of customer inconvenience cannot be calculated. Such vandalism endangers lives and disrupts vital community facilities, including hospital, water pumping plants, communications facilities, street lights, homes and industrial plants with critical processes.

Here are a few quotations from statements issued by CMP after such willful damage to its lines. The first is from an incident in the Bridgton area only a few weeks ago: "Last Saturday, an estimated 6,000 customers in eight communities served by the Bridgton office of the Central Maine Power Company were without electric service for as much as eight hours because of human carelessness behind the trigger of a gun."

Here's another from the Bangham area: "Severe gunshot damage to a number of pole insulators caused a 60-minute interruption of electric service early Tuesday morning to 1,100 Central Maine Power Company customers in the Bangham area."

And in the Waterville area: "Many residents of the Fairfield, Waterville and Oakland area could have been without electricity on Wednesday because a number of insulators on a 31,500 volt line were broken by vandals. The damage was discovered by the power company's helicopter patrol a short time before rain commenced in the area. The damage was on a line that the line would have short circuited if it had not been for prompt action by a transmission crew which was speedily dispatched to the scene."

Down on the coast: "More than 6,000 homes in the Boothbay Harbor area were cut off from vital electric service for an hour and one half through the malicious action of one or more vandals who forced their way into insulators and transmission lines."

"Fifteen wires, two high voltage and one low voltage were left hanging."

These examples are not unique, said Mr. Dunham. They are typical of the fact that willful injury or even death to themselves could result from shooting down a high voltage transmission line. Apparently has not occurred to those who have participated in these willful and malicious acts.

Electricity is one of the great servants of man, President Dunham continued. "But, like fire, it must be controlled. In industries are cooking but tools to help certain the transmission energy of electricity in order to be safe. They are vital to the safe use of this energy source."

CMP pleads its transmission lines regularly to keep them in safe condition.

Fighting wind and cold and other dangers to keep electric power lines in operation is a tough job—but not any less.

March of Dimes Plans to Double
Birth Defects and Arthritis Centers

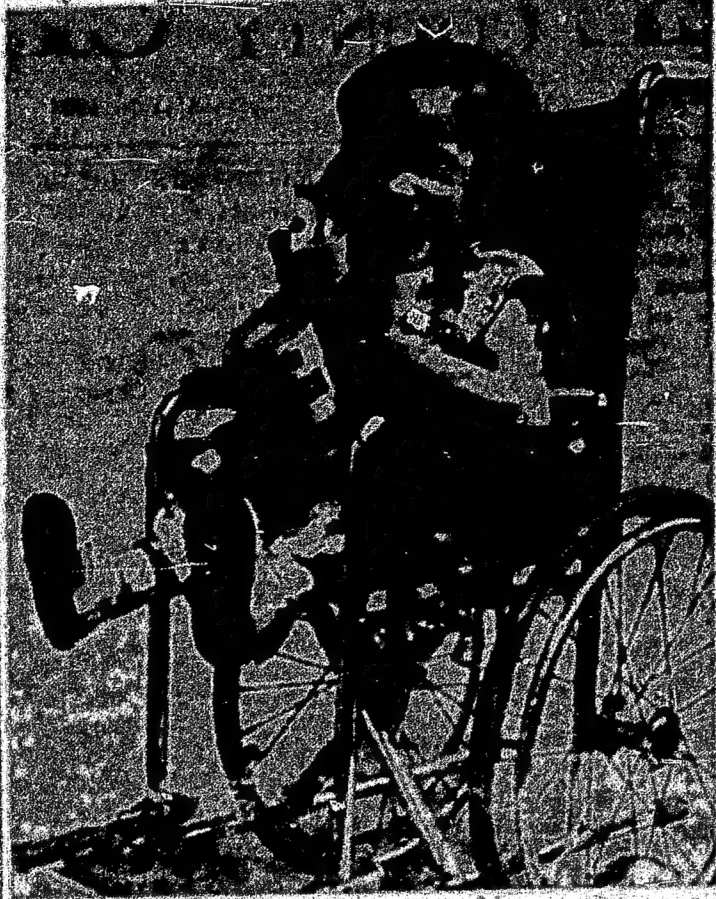

Announcing plans to double the present number of March of Dimes birth defects and arthritis centers in the nation, the world's most successful voluntary health organization this week launched its traditional January fund-raising appeal.

Paul O'Connor, president of The National Foundation-March of Dimes, which develops and operates both polio vaccine and the goal this year would be $45 million, "a sum our medical and scientific advisers agree we can wisely use to combat the ravages of these crippling diseases. This sum would apply to basic research, educational and public education."

The March of Dimes now supports some 77 birth defects and arthritis treatment centers across the country. According to Dr. William S. Clark, director of the medical department of The National Foundation-March of Dimes, the national dimensions of the health problems posed by birth defects and arthritis "have grown to a point where this nation could no longer afford to ignore them. At least 100 centers for birth defects and 50 for arthritis."

"Through the generosity of the American people, we will build up our chapter and center programs across the United States to meet their needs. Our objective against both these crippling afflictions will be reached in 1964."

Leading in this offensive will be the members of the 3,000 March of Dimes chapters in the nation plus the volunteers they enlist—an expected army of two million people. The campaign continues throughout January and culminates with the "Mothers' March" during which some 15 million homes are visited from coast to coast. In addition, a total of 34 million "envelopes" are distributed nationally to inform families of the health aims of the March of Dimes and they also serve as a means of returning contributions to local chapters. The heretofore tax of addressing these envelopes regionally is usually assumed by volunteers—thousands of teenagers, homemakers, grandmothers, helping to dramatize the campaign will be the cross-country tour of winsome Mary Lou Graves, 5, of Flint, Mich., who was born with an open spine, since repaired, and who developed excess water on the brain, another birth defect which has now rectified itself. Mary Lou, however, is paralyzed in the legs but moves with surprising alacrity with leg braces, crutches and her wheel chair. In addition to vicious Mary Lou as the National March of Dimes Child, many states, counties and municipalities across the country designate their own March of Dimes Child symbolizing the aims of their local campaign. In her travels this month, accompanied by her parents, Mary Lou is scheduled to call upon President Lyndon B. Johnson at the White House and has already visited with many Senators, Congressmen, Governors and other high officials. This pretty, five-year-old has "interviewed" the heads of such influential national organizations as the General Federation of Women's Clubs, the Elks, Rotary, Kiwanis and other service clubs including the American Legion, Veterans of the War, American Jewish War Veterans and others.

An estimated total of 250,000 infants are born each year in the United States with serious birth defects. This is equivalent to one in 16 births, or 700 children a day. Of the quarter million total, more than 30,000 die, including stillbirths. As to arthritis, the other major health area in which the March of Dimes leads the attack, fully 11 million Americans are tormented by one or another form of it, the Nation's No. 1

"One of His disciples said unto Him, 'Lord, teach us to pray...' (Luke 11:1).
 "Let us never forget that the greatest thing we can do for God or for man is to pray. For we can accomplish far more by our prayers than by our work. Prayer is omnipotent. It can do anything that God can do. When we pray God works."

CAPITOL COMMENTS
 CONGRESSMAN
 CLIFFORD C. MCINTIRE
 MAINE, SECOND DISTRICT

The first session of the 88th Congress finally came to a close on December 30, 1963, and set a record as the longest peacetime session in history. While criticism has been leveled against the Congress for its lack of accomplishments during those long months, it must not be overlooked that in the field of education legislative progress has been outstanding.

The Higher Education Facilities Act of 1963, which became law on November 16 and is similar to a bill I had introduced last year is designed to help meet college construction costs throughout the United States. A total of $360 million in loans and $50 million in grants will be expended over the next three years in preparation for the growing enrollment at institutions of higher education—enrollment which is expected to double in the next ten years.

The various institutions throughout Maine are among the 2,100 colleges and universities in the United States eligible for assistance under this program. The administration of the program will be directed by the Federal Office of Education working in close cooperation with state educational officials. Grants will be allocated on a matching basis of two parts university funds to one part Federal money. The interest income on the other hand, may be expended to finance up to three-fourths of a student's cost.

The Health Education Professions Act signed into law on September 24 and broadens the lines of our medical and related professions. The action of this law provides Federal grants for construction, expansion, and maintenance of the different types of schools in the public health service. All health care workers will benefit from this program for the future and to students in one of the health professions.

It is most unfortunate, however, that qualified schools of education and students in that field do not receive the protection of the act. I have introduced legislation that would correct this omission and hope, thereby, that the consideration of the act in the first session will be preferred in the second.

Federally-impacted areas in which another field affected by last year's legislation. The existing program will be extended for another two years and will provide help in the construction and maintenance of schools located close to military or other Federal bases.

A sizable number of school districts in Maine carry the burden of educating school populations as a result of Federal assistance in their operation. These will receive partial assistance under the extended program, and Congress is expected to enact supplemental appropriations to further aid the work of these localities.

There has been considerable talk about desegregation and the Federal Government's role in it. However, how far that role is to extend and how much Federal assistance for the cities.

BETHEL AND VICINITY

Douglas Klee and Freddie Dealoskes left Tuesday morning for New York City, in company with the Naval recruiting officer for this area, where they will undergo a series of testing programs in connection with their enlistment in the U. S. Navy.

A neighborhood coffee was held Wednesday morning at the home of Mrs. Charles Merrill, Paradise Street, honoring Mrs. Wilbur Myers and Mrs. Joe Bergoni. Others attending were: Mrs. Albert Buck, Mrs. Donald Stecher, Mrs. Merion Conner, Mrs. Avery Angove, Mrs. Colwyn Haskell, Mrs. Elwin Brown, Mrs. Guy Gibbs, Mrs. Charles Heino, Mrs. John Tebbels, Mrs. Lawrence Kendall, Mrs. Ronald Kendall, Mrs. Neil Merrill, Mrs. Ralph Hall, Mrs. David Thompson, Mrs. Dexter Stowell and Mrs. John Frankiewicz.

BOY SCOUT TROOP 565

The meeting was opened with the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag, the Scout Oath, and the Scout Laws. The troop made plans for a tobogganing party which was held last Saturday evening. The troop then started to work on tenderfoot Morse code, semaphore and second class. The meeting was closed with the Scoutmaster's Benediction.—Troop Scribe, Dickie Waldron.

COTILLION CLUB

The Cotillion Club met Tuesday, January 7. We received our membership cards. We also talked about a demonstration dance showing our dances. We had a party Dec. 20 with many Christmas dances and ornaments. The people attending were as follows: Barbara Bane, Pat Saunders, Brenda Saunders, Kim Lucas, Lisa Farrar, Ann Mills, Terry Stecher, James Perkins, Craig Walker, Lee Ann Gilbert, Brenda Tibbets, Robert Gilbert, David Benbeck, Steve Carter, Darlene Merrill, David York, Steve Hastings, Nancy Dean, David Smiley, Bobby Gilbert, Sam Chapman, Kathleen Powers, Susan Brooke, Brenda and Mitchell Robertson, Cindy Brooks, Tommy Davis, Raki Brown, Mike Heino, Beverly York, Wayne Davis, Becky

CHRISTMAS LETTER TO MR. AND MRS. LORD

Excerpts of letters from Vietnam received by Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Lord, which might be of interest to readers:

"Christmas here was pretty much with everyone sitting in front of the fireplace thinking of home. Many activities were planned but after those were over, everybody started getting ready. Being alone for Christmas is about the worst experience of all. Sure wish I could have been with my family in Texas. I'm missing a lot this year as far as they are concerned and sometimes I wonder for what."

The two evenings prior to Christmas we formed a carol group and went singing at the orphanage, the leprosy, and another hospital here in Kon Tum. We even had a Santa Claus who gave out bags of candy. The children were happy and we felt good about that. At the leprosy hospital, Mrs. Marie, had the children put on a little show—dances, songs, etc. They were from 2 yrs. old to 15 and we were certainly more entertained than they by us.

On Christmas eve most of us went to town and watched the parade from the church to the cemetery. A Catholic priest gave the benediction. For the second time this week, I was impressed. About 90% of Kon Tum is Catholic and last night we saw at least 10,000 people. Montagnards included, parade with lighted candles and singing some religious song or chant of his particular faith. It made me wonder if maybe we in the U. S. have lost the true meaning of Christmas. I don't think I'll ever forget that night.

Since all entertainment of any kind must have music—generally is very much involved. I've been playing the organ and directing the choir besides the Christmas programs.

The compound here is literally lit up at night—lights, in fact, the whole. What amazed me in the way the Vietnamese decorated just about every family in Kon Tum has something in front of his house. Most of the lights are candles in paper or glass. It's very pretty—but not like home. Everything has been very impressive and I wish I could have captured the spirit on film—but I couldn't.

Say hello to everyone in Bethel for me and give my love to all. Happy New Year—hope to see you by May.

Yours loving son,
 Frank

AN EVER DEEPENING URGENCY

The Christmas season is past and the new year opens before us. And this is a good time to reflect on the ultimate fact that the world must find its salvation in the development, not of weapons, but in man's ability to grow in understanding and to value his fellow man.

In this rapidly shifting modern world, the best guide we have can still be found in the Christian concept as expressed by Jesus Christ when He was asked by a questioner to name the great commandment of the law He taught. As Matthew 22:37-39 tells us:

"Jesus said unto him, Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind."

"This is the first great commandment."

"And the second is like unto it, Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself."

As we begin this new year, it is well to reflect that these words challenge each of us to seek within ourselves the understanding to broaden our concept of self-interest until it embraces all mankind.

Barriers are before us as they have always been throughout the world's history, but we face an ever deepening urgency to surmount them. The selfish, acquisitive and combative elements woven into human nature are the greatest barriers we face. To achieve, man must be competitive; but to survive in this new and smaller world he must temper this competitive spirit with reason and the long view of belonging to one family with the common need to live together on one planet.

The miracles of science and technical advances have made all the nations of the Earth neighbors. This in itself has brought us to a point never before seen in history when great powers must compete with restraint because they know the destruction of the world hangs in the balance.

At the root of man's thinking, by whatever name it may be called, there must reside the Christian concept of the value of a single human life. As a foundation for this, people of the backward areas of the world

DENIM MEN OF AMERICA

AUTO MECHANICS

Over 7 million 1963 model cars came off the assembly lines in Detroit. All were cars improved to the point of needing less maintenance than ever before. But this doesn't cut down on the need for auto maintenance shops.

On the contrary. The nation's car population has increased 20% since 1954.

And more cars need service. As a result, there are 34 thousand more shops than there were 10 years ago. (The state of California alone boasts 13,000.) It takes 703,150 denim clad auto mechanics to get the job done.

They work in over 100,000 shops across the country, checking brakes, transmission, wheel alignment, insurance, the safety and long wear of the 78 million automobiles we drive. Two thousand denim wearing women join the men, incidentally, as auto mechanics or apprentices to the craft.

MAINE PAPER INDUSTRY CAUSES BOOM IN 1963 N. E. CONSTRUCTION

$124 million expansion plans for Maine's paper and pulp industry shot 1963 New England construction to record levels according to the year end Construction Report in the New Englander magazine, published by the New England Council.

According to the article, this brings the 11-month total for industrial construction, both actual and anticipated, to more than $230 million in valuation. In 1962, it was $125 million and in 1961, the valuation was $120 million.

Actual and anticipated 1963 construction in terms of floor space was set at more than 23 million sq. ft., over twice the amount of 1962.

New Englander also quoted from F. W. Dodge Corp. where in non-residential construction—much of it industrial—was 14% ahead of 1962 at the 10 month mark. The figure stood at $720,901,000 on November 1 as compared to $633,250,000 for the same period in 1962.

The magazine article gave a summary by state of New England construction in 1963, which included the following:

Massachusetts—came close to the brick 1962 construction pace but did not reach it. A total of 135 major expansions were undertaken or announced including both new plants and additions to existing facilities, which will add 3.7 million sq. ft. to the state's industrial space, at a cost of $47 million.

Maine—The most spectacular gain in its history was due to the unprecedented activity of its pulp-paper industry. International Paper Mills plans a $54 million plant in Livermore Falls; Oxford Paper Co., $40 million, Rumford; Georgia-Pacific Corp., $25 million, Woodland; Standard Packaging Corp., $5 million, Lincoln, with $10 million more to be spent within the next few years.

Rhode Island—A new record was set with 1,617,427 sq. ft. of plant area added by 37 firms representing a plant investment of $15,362,000. This was more than double the complete figure for 1962.

Connecticut—Only nine month figures were available, but these totaled 174 projects good for 3,177,000,000 sq. ft. valued at $30,556,000 for which general contracts were actually awarded for that period. These figures were slightly above the figures of a year ago. Listing of major individual projects painted a bright picture for increased activity on many fronts.

New Hampshire—Figures for this state were approximate.

PHILLIPS C. BROOKS

Funeral services for Phillips C. Brooks were held December 31 at 2 p. m. at the Greenleaf funeral home. It was a Masonic service.

Besides neighbors and many local friends, the funeral was attended by the following from out of town: Sgt. Stanwood Brooks, Presido, Calif.; Phillips C. Brooks, Richmond, Ky.; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Maroon, Robert Jr., and Marsha, Lewiston; Mr. and Mrs. C. Babcock, Oyster Bay, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. James Bryant, East Meadow, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Glenn C. Meserve, Hingham, Mass.; Mr. and Mrs. Lester Bryant and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Crockett, Bryant Pond; Mrs. Emily J. Ludford, Wantage, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. George Poor, Oxford; John Hicks, Locke Mills; Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Brinck, Wilton's Mills; Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Bryant, Stanley R. Bryant, Miss Frances Bryant and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Bryant, all of South Paris; Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Cole, Alford, Mass.; and Mr. and Mrs. Russell Graham, Berlin, N. H.

Rufus King Dunham, Mr. Brooks' great grandfather, the first station agent for the Grand Trunk Railroad at Bryant Pond, was always an inspiration to him. Mr. Brooks went to work as a telegrapher at the age of 18 summers for the Grand Trunk Railroad before he finished Shaw's Business College. His work from that time on for 44 years was railroad during which time he worked for the Maine Central, Boston & Maine and finally the Canadian National Railroad where he also did telegraphy work until he became relief agent in 1930. He retired last July after being agent in Bethel since 1937.

Mr. Brooks was a great reader and also an admirer of Lincoln. He leaves a fine collection of books concerning him. He loved fishing and was a fine bowler having won several trophies. Above all, his keen mind and rare sense of humor will be missed by all who knew him.

Mr. Brooks wrote for the Norway Advertiser under the title, "The Cracker Box" for a number of years. There are many in this area who remember the bits he wrote for the Citizen during World War II.

Following is one of Phil's many poems:

A-RIDING ON THE TRAIN
I love to go a-riding
Upon the railroad train
And view the landscape flying
Right by my window pane.

To see the lengthening shadows
As night is drawing nigh
And watch the street lights twinkling
Like diamonds flashing by.

I love to see the houses
Each one a cozy nest
And think that snug within them
Some friend may be at rest.

I love to hear the chimes come
A-tapping on the glass
And hear the friendly whistle toot
At stations as we pass.

Oh kings may have their chariots
And ride in splendor vain
But give to me the homely thrill
Of riding on the train.
